SEAOHUN · ONE HEALTH CAMPUS-TO-COMMUNITY CHALLENGE 2026

Regional Student Showcase

Concept Note and Agenda

Purpose

The Regional Student Showcase brings the OH-C2C Challenge to a close. Eight student teams present the community One Health projects they implemented between July and October 2026, and share lessons with peers, mentors, partners, public and funders.

Background

The OH-C2C Challenge supports university student teams to design and run community-based pilots at the human–animal–environment interface. The 2026 call received 75 applications from 9 countries. After eligibility screening and review by a regional judging committee, one team per country was awarded a small grant of up to USD 2,000 funded by Chevron. Eight awarded teams present at the showcase.

Objectives

- Give student teams a regional platform to present what they implemented, what they learned and what changed in their communities.
- Encourage peer learning and cross-country collaboration among student clubs, university networks and mentors.
- Recognise student leadership and the support of supervisors, local partners and funders.
- Collect lessons and examples for the project best-practice and success stories.
