

Dr. Karen Saylor

Global Technical Support for OHW-NG, Research Scientist

Labyrinth Global Health

Mexico

Dr. Karen Saylor is the Chief Executive Officer of and a Research Scientist with Labyrinth Global Health (a women-owned small business), and a member of the One Health Workforce – Next Generation Project global consortium, supporting University of California Davis, AFROHUN, and SEAOHUN teams in Risk Communication & Community Engagement, gender activities, and integrated One Health participatory research. As a medical anthropologist, she conducts community-based research and zoonotic disease biosurveillance in Africa and Southeast Asia. Dr. Saylor has designed and implemented a range of field and lab-based projects for collaborative multi-agency studies with USAID, PEPFAR, DTRA, NIH, and NATO. She lives and works from Merida, Mexico.